Are you struggling to study due to ...

- financial worries
- carer responsibilities
- health problems
- difficult family circumstances
- or other social obstacles that are impeding your studies?

... We will use our expertise to develop solutions and strategies with you and employ available resources. Family members can be involved in the consultation if required or we can help you make contact with specialist bodies.

We are also the point of contact for

- advice on educational funding
- applying to the University for grants/scholarships in cases of hardship
- insurance questions
- information about and applications to the university day care center
- consulting Students without Barriers (StoB) on studying with a physical disability, mental health condition or chronic illness
- coordination and consultation for refugees who want to study
